Hard for Robots and Men
We Need Submarines
Letting Convicts Read
A New Standard Lady

Science piles prodigy on prodigy, miracle on miracle, so rapidly that it drowns the average brain.

Professor Partridge, only twenty-six years old, in New York university's chemistry department, can manufacture lithium at $15 a pound. A little while ago you couldn't have gotten a pound for a million dollars. Lithium is a metal so light that it floats even on kerosene.

Some things that float on water, you know, will not float on kerosene. Professor McFay of New York university demonstrates a robot, a mechanical man, with an electric lamp in place of eyes, a radio tube in place of a brain, relays and magnets for hands.

However, it can be shown that no robot can develop any new ideas. He who wishes to avoid robot competition should devote himself to developing new ideas and working them out.

From Seattle, the Pacific Aeronautics Research foundation plans, for next May, a nonstop flight across the Pacific.

Men have flown from Europe to South America, from London to India, across the Atlantic repeatedly, over the North and South poles.

The Pacific alone remains to be conquered.

And only a few years ago Lord Northcliffe offered $50,000 to any one that would fly the English channel!

The Brooklyn navy yard starts work on a new submarine, the V-7, keeping at work 725 men that would have been discharged. This encourages the people to think we may have some intelligent interest in national defense. Submarines with modern engines can go around the world without taking fuel, traveling on the surface, as they do in peace. A good fleet of really big submarines with heavy guns, knocked-down fighting planes, high speed and long sailing range would do a great deal for peace if they could be sent to visit every important port in the world. Those well prepared have peace. The unprepared have war.

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing prison, wise man, says: "I shall let my convicts read in newspapers accounts of the outbreak in the Auburn penitentiary. There will be a good deal of buzzing when they read them. But the effect on their morale of withholding the newspapers would be worse than allowing them to see them."

That's an intelligent man. The cars might be rolling yet had they known enough to let the people know the facts.

Information and discussion supply a great safety valve.

The warden of Auburn prison, captured by convicts in rebellion, said the convicts, of whom many are dead, were made desperate by the knowledge that if they failed, they would surely go to the electric chair. In this case, at least, capital punishment did not deter men from murder.

The United States bureau of standards says the ideal woman is now "the perfect 34," not the "perfect 36" of days before the "boyish figure."

If your bust is 36, your waist should measure 31 inches, hips 39 inches. Thirty-four bust, 28-inch waist, 37-inch hips, is the "standard lady," according to the bureau, which, however, knows nothing about it.

Abraham Lincoln's mother wasn't a "standard 34" nor was "Bertha with the big feet," mother of Charlemagne. For a cloak model, the "perfect 34" is ideal, perhaps.

For an efficient mother, which is what counts, bigger busts, bigger waists, bigger hips.

Somebody supposed to be an expert says that the United States will manufacture in 1930, 1,000,000 fewer automobiles than in 1929.

That prediction, probably mistaken, is not creditable to the people's intelligence.

Many things a family can do without, but no family, properly organized can do without a good automobile.

The country, apparently, is still doing business. "Big Steel," Wall Street's name for the United States Steel corporation, shows unfilled orders for steel tonnage increased by 58,783 tons last month.

The company has a total of unfilled orders amounting to 4,125,245 tons, which does not look much like a "panic."

"As a sheep before her shearers is dumb," That's from the Bible.

"As a lamb after its shearing is dumb" may soon be the news in Wall Street. It depends on the rapidly with which the lambs go back for another shearing.

They always do go back, which is what makes brokers' seats worth $20,000 apiece, and will some day make them worth $1,000,000 apiece.

Mr. John T. P. Moffat, representing the United States at Geneva, signed the protocol that, if nothing happens to prevent, will land us in the World court.

MAKING MOVIE SNOW PICTURES

PRODUCTION CO. NOW PHOTOGRAPHING SITES

Charles W. Montrose of Detroit, director of the Montrose Motion Picture Production, is in Grayling and at present is engaged in the photographing of locations which will be followed by the production of 24 two-reel motion pictures, depicting northern life.

In an interview with Mr. Montrose he said: "This territory is ideally suitable for my productions. There is everything here such as hills, stands of virgin timber, swamps, lakes, rivers and snow. And you have animal life from snow-shoe rabbits to deer and bear."

Further, Mr. Montrose says that he "had no intention of coming to Grayling. I was going to the Upper Peninsula first but various friends of mine have hunted this region about Grayling for years and it was upon their recommendation that I came here."

"Frankly speaking I am more than satisfied with conditions here."

Mr. Montrose is comfortably located at Shoppingtons Inn where he is doing some of the preliminary work that is necessary before starting on production of a motion picture series. The scenario is already written and just at this time he will be busy taking pictures of locations. After this preliminary work has been accomplished he will have his cameramen and cast come here from New York city and the actual work of taking the pictures will begin. Besides the professional cast he says that he will require the assistance of quite a number of local talent.

It is going to require several months to make the picture. Mr. Montrose says that what he wants now is winter weather. And by the looks of things at this time he will be afforded plenty of that.

Mr. Montrose is a very pleasant and interesting person to meet. He very kindly showed us some of his camera equipment and explained its operation. Just at present, he says, he isn't getting into the work very hard due to a very recent illness, but feels certain that he will soon recover his usual good health and ambition.

Here Grayling is proving its versatility. While its surrounding beautiful summer scenes have been sung in poetry, prose and music, now we will furnish the setting for the motion camera. Just as Arthur Stace says, Michigan is beautiful in summer but is still more beautiful in winter. The work of Mr. Montrose is bound to bring still further fame to our beloved community.

O. E. S. CHRISTMAS TREE

Grayling Chapter O. E. S. No. 83 will have a Christmas party Friday evening, December 20, in the basement dining room of the opera house. All members and their families are invited and any O. E. S. members who do not belong to the Chapter are specially invited.

By the Worthy Matron, Mrs. William McNeven.

1-Col. Patrick Jay Hurley of Oklahoma, the new secretary of war, 2-American marines in Haiti ready to answer a riot call to suppress such disorders as have occurred recently, 3-The dignified room in St. James' palace, London, in which the sessions of the naval limitation conference will be held.

GRAYLING BOY HEADS FOR CHINA

Allen Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Martin of Saginaw is taking a very interesting trip and we presume before long we will hear that he is in China, because that is where he contemplates to go on his trip.

Allen and a friend started out from Saginaw with $100.00 each last October, visiting Washington, D. C. and other cities in the east. When they reached New York, Allen's friend became homesick and returned to Saginaw, but Allen decided not to return with him. Allen then made trips back and forth to Texas on oil boats and then one day the opportunity came to sail for France. He enjoyed the trip from New York to France but said he did not care for France at all because of the quantity of liquor served at the restaurants. He could not even get a cup of coffee without he was offered a drink, so for this reason did not stay in France only two or three weeks and returned to New York. Mrs. Martin had a letter from him recently saying he was on his way to San Pedro, California, going by way of the Panama Canal.

When Allen was a school boy in Grayling with his parents, we remember the time he started for "China" with two or three other Grayling youths but their parents brought them back before they got very far. Allen is 21 years old now.

We know this young man is having lots of fun and plenty of interesting experiences and his friends in Grayling wish him a very pleasant journey.

It isn't often we envy a person who loses money, but when we read about a man dropping $50,000,000 in the market we sorely wish we could do it. Dayton (Ohio) News.

Here He Comes

FREE GIFTS TO ALL LITTLE BOYS AND GIRLS OF THE COUNTY

Tuesday, December 24th will be the big day for the kiddies of Crawford county for on that day Old Santa Claus will be here with a whopping big truckload of candies, nuts, popcorns, oranges, etc., and will see to it that every boy and girl is remembered.

Some of the goodfellows of the town, chipped in their pennies and gave them to Santa Claus and told him to use them; every cent. There was at last report $686 in cash in the fund besides more to come and a number of pairs of candy, nuts, oranges, already on hand. It surely is going to be a big day.

Santa To Arrive At 1:30 At Community Tree

Parents are requested to see to it that their children are at the tree at 1:30 p. m. next Tuesday. Of course the grown-ups may come too for they will enjoy seeing the happy little faces. Santa is especially jovial this year and we just know the kiddies will say he is the best one they ever saw.

Free Show At Rialto Theatre
And Santa, also, has purchased enough tickets to the Rialto theatre for each boy and girl to have one free. The show will be "Eternal Love," starring John Barrymore, and starts promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

NOTE—There must be a lot of good clothing hanging about in closets and attics that would do someone a lot of good if they had it. There are a number of families here that can use some of these things and the Christmas tree committee will be glad to distribute such clothing. Look about and pick up whatever you may have that may still be of service. Bring it to the Board of Trade club rooms any time before next Wednesday; earlier will be better. Thank you.

FORMER GRAYLING RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

The funeral of Mrs. Christine Nelson, wife of Anthony Nelson, was held Monday from her home on 621 South Woodbridge Street, Saginaw, Michigan. The services were officiated by Rev. C. P. Weiskotten. Interment was in Oakwood cemetery.

Mrs. Nelson was born February 27, 1864, in Wasele Denmark and came to America in 1887 making her home in Grayling. In 1894 she married Anthony Nelson in New York where they remained for a short time before returning to take up a residence in Grayling. They moved to Saginaw in 1907. The former was a member of the Lutheran church and Danish Sisterhood. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Franklin Ryder of Bay City; four sons, Axel, Saginaw; Anchor and Arthur of Detroit; and Lincoln, Flint; one brother James Rasmussen, Saginaw; one sister Mrs. Andrew Anderson, Portland, Oregon; and eight grandchildren.

YOUNG MOTHER PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Anna Peterson, wife of Hans L. Peterson, of this city, passed away at University Hospital in Ann Arbor on December 15th. Cause of her death was cancer, from which she had been suffering practically two years.

Mrs. Peterson was 32 years old, born on August 1st, 1897 in Moorestown, Michigan, the only daughter of Peter Peterson who is the Fire Warden in Charron, Michigan. Her mother died in 1916. She attended Grayling High School and graduated in the class of 1917. She was very active in school life, especially in basketball. Soon after her graduation in 1917, she was united in marriage to Hans L. Peterson, son of Hemming Peterson, of Maple Forest township, and three children were born to this union. They have resided in Grayling since their marriage and she often assisted in the Cooley Gift Shop, where she always displayed a cheery disposition. She later accepted a position of nature research worker for the late James Oliver Curwood at his cabin on the South Branch and was the last secretary Mr. Curwood employed before his death. She typed most of his late novels, preparing them for the publishers.

Two years ago, Mrs. Peterson went to Ann Arbor for an examination and was feeling considerably better until six weeks ago when it became necessary for her to go to Ann Arbor again. She was a very cheerful patient and up to the last accepted any suggestion the doctors might make with a smile. The doctors she had two years ago at Ann Arbor were at her bedside at the end, also her husband, father and her brother, Clyde Peterson of this city were with her.

The remains of Mrs. Peterson were brought from Ann Arbor to Grayling Sunday. The funeral was held from the Michelson Memorial church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Clippert and Mr. Webb rendered several vocal selections and Rev. Greenwood gave a very impressive sermon. The number of beautiful wreaths sent by the friends and relatives showed the high esteem in which she was held. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, three children, Donald Richard and Kenneth and her father, Peter Peterson. Those coming from out of town to attend the funeral were Henry Short, a half-brother of Houghton, Michigan; her aunt, Mrs. Laura Spittler of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. James Mathews of Mount Morris and Miss Mildred Hutchinson of Caro.

Mrs. Peterson will be missed by the people of Grayling, as she mingled with the younger set and always was jolly, full of fun and ready for a good time. Many hearts are saddened by her demise and the family have the sympathy of many in their loss.

It is reported that J. P. Morgan has won a prize for raising large violets. We thought that his specialty was raising long greens.

OF THOSE who go into business for themselves, many fail because they do not observe the simple basic rules of success.

One of the men who worked four years at a chair in the barber shop we patronized rented a neighborhood storeroom and went into business. He had been out for himself twice before but had never made a go of it. In his last job he had a good boss, a man who has accumulated a comfortable independence by careful management of a small shop. Working for his successful proprietor, the young barber paid his debts and acquired a substantial equity in a home. Shortly after he had opened his one-chair shop he spent the morning downtown. "Who's looking after your shop?" he was asked. "Oh, I stuck a sign on the door 'Back at 1 p. m.'"

Well, it looks as though he were

Review of the Old Home Town

The time seems short since I have left
The old home town and lots of friends,
And coming back I find that time
Has taken out large dividends.

The old playmates that I once knew
Are grown to men and women now,
Seems queer to hear them fret and stew
And fume about some childish row.

Post office boxes have been changed,
Garages take the place of barns,
The barber shops are filled with dames,
You don't hear many old time yarns.

Still, some things are about the same,
They still have "Temple" dances, and
It boasts a mighty popular name,
Don Reynolds and his snappy band.

The schoolhouse seems the same to me,
It does not change with time and age,
It brings back all the memory
Of some 'crab' teacher or old sage.

The old drug store that used to have
The name of "Lewis" on the door,
Now has the name of "Mac & Gidley"
Stamped on a hundred things or more.

A church that used to be a place
Of many a solemn wedding vow,
Has turned the wheels of time a space,
And now sells products of the cow.

The lumber mills that used to hum
All through the day are still and dead,
They're talking now of making tar
And asphalt in their same old stead.

Oh yes! The place has changed a bit,
Since "Pete" has quit the livery barn,
And "Simpson's" quit the grocery store
And we drove horses from the farm.

There's lots more things that I could name,
Had I but time to stay and roam,
But anyway it's just the same
When I am with the folks at home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harrison and family moved to Paris, Michigan, this week where Mr. Harrison will continue his duties in the Fish Hatchery in that town.

Miss Gertrude Loskus of Grand Rapids, daughter of Mrs. Katherine Loskus was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Eklens of Grand Rapids this morning. Miss Gertrude was a graduate of Grayling High School and played a prominent part in the athletic sports.

Mrs. Lula B. Love, wife of Dr. J. T. Love was granted a permanent divorce and alimony by Judge Guy Miller in Wayne county court December 13th. Dr. and Mrs. Love and daughter Miss Roberta at one time resided in Grayling where Dr. Love conducted a dental office.

T. W. Hanson spent Thanksgiving with his daughter Virginia who is a student at Vassar College, Vassar, N. Y., and later joined Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bauman at Salisbury, N. C., as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodson. Mr. Bauman returned last Friday and Mrs. Bauman is expected to return Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and daughter Miss Colletta and Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of West Branch were guests of Frank Tetu and family Sunday and enjoyed a holiday feast together. Monday evening Mrs. Tetu entertained several young ladies at bridge in honor of her sister Miss Colletta Smith. The latter with her parents are planning to spend the winter in Florida and left Tuesday to spend Xmas in Indianapolis, enroute south.

We have the largest and best assortment of house slippers in town at Olsons.

Gifts that satisfy and that are easy to buy. Some slippers and hosiery. Get them at Olsons.

Mrs. Andrew Brown writes from Kenosha, Wis., that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Brown, is much improved. However, Mrs. Brown expects to remain in Kenosha until after Christmas.

Miss Annabelle McLeod left this afternoon for Detroit owing to the death of her brother-in-law, Charles E. Curtis. Mr. Curtis and his wife visited in Grayling two or three times a year and there are several who know him personally. He was a traveling auditor. Mrs. Joe McLeod expects to leave Friday.

Mrs. Hans Petersen, accidentally fell downstairs Wednesday of last week and was quite badly bruised. We are glad to report at this time that she is much improved.

One of the stores in the Hanson-Nelson block is being remodeled for occupancy about January 2nd by one of our most popular grocers, Hans Petersen. The store is next to the Mac & Gidley drug store, one of the finest locations in town. Workers are busy putting in a fine new plateglass front and remodeling the interior. We are sure this will be a fine location for Mr. Petersen and the addition of this new store will add to the appearance of Michigan Avenue.

The streets are busy these days, busy with shoppers who are buying all sorts of things from lipstick to furniture for Christmas gifts. Surely the window displays have been noticed. We find several of the windows are displaying Christmas trees covered with glistening snow and icicles, which give them that truly festive air. These look especially pretty at night when the lights are on. Some of the windows have not the Christmas tree display but have their windows trimmed very attractively with red and green crepe paper. Half of the real enjoyment in gift buying lies in the ability to find gifts that are different and the Grayling windows are full of gift suggestions, too numerous to mention, but those shown in the windows are merely illustrative of the hundreds of others to be seen inside the stores.

Margrothe and Ella Hanson who are attending the U. of M. at Ann Arbor, are expected home the last of the week to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanson.

Buy your tickets now for the Mid-Winter Frolic to be given on New Year's Eve by the Grayling Nurses' Alumnae Association for the benefit of Mercy Hospital. Tickets are $1.50 per couple, and a charge of 50c will be made for extra ladies and spectators.

GAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

Sixteen ladies and gentlemen were delightfully entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Keyport.

The house presented a real Christmas spirit with its decoration of cedar boughs and red poinsettias. Four tables were filled for bridge, the honors for the games falling to Mrs. Marius Hanson and Dr. R. Howard, and consolations to Mrs. Oscar Schumann and Dr. C. G. Clippert.

After lunch the guests were ushered into the dining room where a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree brought exclamations from the merry crowd. Everyone had a gift and for a few moments a passerby might have thought that Piccolo Pete and all his brothers had dropped into Grayling.

The merry crowd left at a late hour, assuring the hosts that the evening had indeed been an enjoyable one.

CAN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT AVALANCHE

STOP KILLING SPIKE HORN BUCKS

AND SOME REASONS WHY

I have seen more does and fawns which were killed in the season just closed than has been my experience the past twenty years during which time I have hunted in Michigan.

To my knowledge during the first three days of the 1929 season there has never been so much shooting in the locality in which I hunted. Most of this shooting was done by over-anxious hunters not knowing just what they were shooting at and the does and fawns fell victims to this unnecessary slaughter which was intended, evidently, for spike-horned bucks.

During the past three weeks I have personally interviewed a great number of Michigan sportsmen between Bay City and the Soo and about twenty-five per cent of these are strongly in favor of a law being enacted whereby it will be lawful only to kill male deer with pronged horns. The killing of a spike horn buck should be unlawful, thereby protecting, in a great measure, the does and fawns.

It is almost impossible to see a 5 or 6 inch spike unless the deer has his head to the ground. In such a position the ears drop back slightly and the horns then can be seen at a side glance, or should the deer be facing the hunter. Even then the spikes are not easily detected. A great percentage of the hunters, knowing these conditions first and the chance of shooting first and investigating after, only to find they killed either a doe or fawn and occasionally an unfortunate hunter has been the target.

I understand California's buck law has been in force longer than Michigan's, and about three years ago a law was enacted making it unlawful to kill spike horn bucks. Interviewing three California outdoor sportsmen they state the spike horn law has greatly helped this unnecessary killing, making safer and better hunting.

In the opinion of a small majority of hunters the buck law should be repealed, closing the season one year and making it an open season on all sex deer the next. Now, all you hunters will recall the great loss of human life during the last open season on all sex deer. Such an arrangement is not looked on with favor by the greater majority.

Some hunters have no idea just what the present buck law has done to increase the number of deer in Michigan. I recall, twenty years ago, hunting three days in succession and not sighting a deer of any kind. During my continuous travels in northern Michigan for the past five years, I have found the deer have become more plentiful.

Let us have a law enacted making it unlawful to kill a spike horn buck as well as the doe and fawn.

*It was on the AuSable river where we hunted this year near Lovells in Crawford County, and the first three or four days there were about eight or ten does and fawns killed within two miles of our cabin.

THE REPORT CARD

(By Grayling Public Schools)

Grayling Team Defeats East Tawas
Last Saturday night Grayling High School added another victory to its string by defeating East Tawas by a score 16-14 in a very close game. From the beginning of the game it was a fight, and no one could claim the victory. Grayling held the lead during the first half, but during the latter part of the game with the score 14-13 in East Tawas' favor, La-Grow made a foul shot which tied the count. In the last three minutes of play Grayling was determined to win, and when Curnalia sank a pretty shot from the red line, the game was Grayling's.

The all-school play, "The Widow Mullin's Christmas," is to be presented next Thursday, December 19th, in the High School Assembly room, at 8 p. m. Admission 25c. There will be a free presentation of the play in the afternoon for the school children. The new foreign language teacher, Miss Nichols, began her work at about 10:30, December 18th.

The Alternative debate team is putting in a hard week of practice in preparation for the first affirmative debate one week after Christmas vacation, at West Branch.

Because of the nearness of the time for the presentation of the Christmas play, the Sophomore Assembly has been postponed until after vacation.

School closes Friday for a two week's vacation.

The Girl Scouts are planning a party between themselves Wednesday evening.

Grade Notes

Miss Fyrie's second grade and Miss Sibley's third grade are planning a party together Friday. The children have all exchanged names and a pleasant time is assured by the teachers. Visitors are welcome.

The grade rooms are all decorated in Christmas trimmings—bells, Santa Claus and his ever present reindeer, etc.

The children are all looking forward to the Christmas holidays.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

Following the festive trend of all the week's activities, the Woman's Club held a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Laura Giegling. A sketch read by Miss Margrethe Hemmington described the Christmas celebration common to many countries, and this reading was interspersed with a story "The First Christmas Tree" and with Christmas songs of foreign lands sung by a quartet, Misses Louise McAllister, Vella Hermann, Theres Lindstrom, and Miss Theres Lindstrom sang one carol in Swedish, and Mrs. Anna Herblison, Miss Margrethe Hemmington, and Miss Ingeborg Hanson sang in Danish. Following the description of the festivities in Germany, little Virginia and Beatrice Peterson sang Luther's "Odele Nymen."

Christmas songs sung by the Club and a game of "Keno" for which small prizes were awarded were followed by refreshments.

During the business session, the member voted to remember the inmates of Mercy Hospital and the County Infirmary with Christmas gifts of fruit and flowers.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND COMMENTS

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

The new plan for the beautification of the Capitol Grounds is not without its disadvantages. Many historic landmarks are being destroyed to make room for the new buildings. Among them is the "Old Brick Capitol" which was formerly three residences at 21-23-25 First Street North East.

After the war of 1812, when the National Capitol was partially destroyed by the British, Congress met in "The Old Brick Capitol" from 1815 to 1819. It was here that James Monroe was inaugurated President. John C. Calhoun died in this building in 1850. During the Civil War it was used as a military prison and it was here that the famous and beautiful Rebel spy, Belle Boyd, was confined after her capture. Some of the old dungeons and tunnels underneath the building are still intact. It was in this building that the late General Leonard E. Wood was married and some of the most romantic episodes of early Washington days were connected with this famous old structure which will be razed to make room for the new Supreme Court Building. The National Woman's Party in later years has owned it and made its headquarters there. Some of the most beautiful marble mantles and fireplaces to be found in Washington are in this building, these having been chiseled out by noted sculptors.

Another old landmark that will soon go by the board to make room for modern improvements is the old National Hotel on Pennsylvania Avenue. It was from this hotel that "Old Hickory" Jackson walked in his cowhide boots to the Capitol to be inaugurated President, and in its spacious, high-ceilinged rooms for over a century Presidential candidates were chosen and the destinies of the United States were directed. Some of the most famous statesmen of by-gone days, including Henry Clay, lived at this hotel, and the intrigue and political machinations which had to do with that era were hatched in this famous old hotel, which has been in business for more than one hundred years. It is the only building in Washington which has been an Inn and Hotel continuously since 1806.

Still another historic building now being razed is the one at the corner of New Jersey Ave and B St., South East, just across from the House Office Building, a fine great stone residence of four stories. In the days of its splendor it was the home of Chester A. Arthur, and at one time was occupied by the famous Ben Butler. Old-timers in Washington feel a great sadness at the passing of these historic old place that will have to make way for the new beautification program.

The high light of the week in Congress was the selection of Joseph Grundy to be Senator from Pennsylvania in the place of Wm. S. Vare of Philadelphia, who was refused a seat in that august body because of undue expenditures in his campaign.

It will be remembered that Grundy as a witness before the Senate Lobby investigating Committee frankly stated the doctrine that the western states should look to the more populous industrial eastern states for their tariff principles, and that representatives of the western states should "talk damn small" when it comes to anything affecting eastern industrialism.

Probably the most singular situation ever having arisen in Congress is brought about by Grundy's appointment, in that the Governor who appointed him was elected on a ticket which admittedly spent much more money in its campaign than did the Vare ticket; and while Vare was deposed a seat, the Senate finds itself compelled to accept Grundy, who is the one man who had defied the Senate and the people, and who says he is a lobbyist and proud of it. Some exciting times are looked for in this session of Congress as Grundy is certain to be made the object of some caustic remark by other members of the Senate. It is thought by some that the new Senator's power as such will be considerably less than it was as a lobbyist.

A man in Holland has invented a doorbell which won't ring until you put a penny in the slot. This would have been clever, even for a Scotchman.
